Prelude

Processional Hymn: [362] Holy, holy, holy! Lord God Almighty!

Call to Worship: "My America" by Joyce Eilers Bacak

Hymn of Praise: "Gloria" by Andrea Rogero

The Collect of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, you have given to us your servants grace, by the confession of a true faith, to acknowledge the glory of the eternal Trinity, and in the power of your divine Majesty to worship the Unity: Keep us steadfast in this faith and worship, and bring us at last to see you in your one and eternal glory, O Father; who with the Son and the Holy Spirit live and reign, one God, forever and ever. Amen.

The First Lesson Proverbs 8:1-4, 22-31

Does not wisdom call, and does not understanding raise her voice? On the heights, beside the way, at the crossroads she takes her stand; beside the gates in front of the town, at the entrance of the portals she cries out: "To you, O people, I call, and my cry is to all that live. The LORD created me at the beginning of his work, the first of his acts of long ago. Ages ago I was set up, at the first, before the beginning of the earth. When there were no depths I was brought forth, when there were no springs abounding with water. Before the mountains had been shaped, before the hills, I was brought forth-- when he had not yet made earth and fields, or the world's first bits of soil. When he established the heavens, I was there, when he drew a circle on the face of the deep, when he made firm the skies above, when he established the fountains of the deep, when he assigned to the sea its limit, so that the waters might not transgress his command, when he marked out the foundations of the earth, then I was beside him, like a master worker; and I was daily his delight, rejoicing before him always, rejoicing in his inhabited world and delighting in the human race."

The Word of the Lord. THANKS BE TO GOD.

Psalm 8

1. O LORD our Governor, how exalted is your Name in all the world!
2. Out of the mouths of infants and children your majesty is praised above the heavens.
3. You have set up a stronghold against your adversaries, to quell the enemy and the avenger.
4. *When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers,
the moon and the stars you have set in their courses,*
5. What is man that you should be mindful of him? The son of man that you should seek him out?
6. You have made him but little lower than the angels; you adorn him with glory and honor;
7. You give him mastery over the works of your hands; you put all things under his feet:
8. All sheep and oxen, even the wild beasts of the field,
9. The birds of the air, the fish of the sea, and whatsoever walks in the paths of the sea.
10. O LORD our Governor, how exalted is your Name in all the world!

The Second Lesson Romans 5:1-5

Since we are justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom we have obtained access to this grace in which we stand; and we boast in our hope of sharing the glory of God. And not only that, but we also boast in our sufferings, knowing that suffering produces endurance, and endurance produces character, and character produces hope, and hope does not disappoint us, because God's love has been poured into our hearts through the Holy Spirit that has been given to us.

The Word of the Lord. THANKS BE TO GOD.

Gospel Anthem: "Majesty" by Jack W. Hayford; Choral setting by Jack Schrader

The Holy Gospel of Our Lord Jesus Christ according to John 16:12-15

GLORY TO YOU, LORD CHRIST

Jesus said to the disciples, "I still have many things to say to you, but you cannot bear them now. When the Spirit of truth comes, he will guide you into all the truth; for he will not speak on his own, but will speak whatever he hears, and he will declare to you the things that are to come. He will glorify me, because he will take what is mine and declare it to you. All that the Father has is mine. For this reason I said that he will take what is mine and declare it to you."

Good News Daily

May 30-June 5, 2010

John 1:29-34 Then John gave this testimony: "I saw the Spirit come down from heaven as a dove and remain on him. I would not have known him, except that the one who sent me to baptize with water told me, 'The man on whom you see the Spirit come down and remain is he who will baptize with the Holy Spirit.'" (vv.32-33 NIV)

One of the first hymns I learned while growing up was "Holy, Holy, Holy! Lord God Almighty," describing God's Power, and also describing God's being, "God in three persons, 'Blessed Trinity.'" In the early stages of my Christianity the concept of "God in three persons" was truly a mystery to me, similar to the way Winston Churchill described Russia: "a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma." But I prayed that the Holy Spirit would guide me through God's mystery to a deeper understanding of The Trinity. I learned that God was a loving Father, gracefully drawing me into a closer relationship with Him; that God's Son, Jesus Christ, loved me enough to sacrifice himself as an atonement for my sins; and that God the Spirit, loves me, dwells in my heart, and draws me to God's love as I surrender to Him, trust Him, and serve Him. God's Three love each other in perfect harmony in God, and He invites all of us to join Him, in Him, for all eternity! I accept that invitation and worship God, the Three in One described in Isaiah 9:6: "Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace"!

Matthew 13:44-52 "The kingdom of heaven is like treasure hidden in a field." (v.44a)

When we were kids in Sunday school our teachers used Jesus' parables as beacons to draw us into a deeper relationship with him and our neighbors. They also helped us to realize that knowing God through Jesus Christ takes a lifetime of study, prayer, and growth as we develop that relationship. In the thirty three years since Jesus entered my life, I still find new gems of wisdom in his parables. Jesus' most familiar parables are the longer ones: The Parable of the Sower, The Parable of the Wicked Tenants, The Lost Son, etc. But when Jesus begins with "The kingdom of God is like..." I anticipate a real jewel coming. The shorter, more succinct parables often have a greater impact than do the longer and more narrative ones. The Treasure in the Field, The Pearl of Great Price, The Mustard Seed, and The Lost Sheep are great examples of this. Jesus, the Son of God, not only uses parables to teach us truths from everyday life, the Divine Jesus uses parables to teach us eternal truths as we grow into a deeper relationship with him, his Father, and the Holy Spirit.

Matthew 13:53-58 But Jesus said to them, "Only in his hometown and in his own house is a prophet without honor." (v.57b)

There is a saying: "Familiarity breeds contempt." I imagine that in the parochial and agrarian society of Nazareth and its surroundings, Jesus, the local carpenter, was familiar and well respected by the town-folk. But then Jesus stepped out of the box! He proclaimed himself as the Son of God! His teachings not only challenged the "old ways" customary to Jewish tradition, but also were supported by his performance of healings and miracles. Those who were more familiar with the "old" Jesus had difficulty with the new; skepticism, anger, offense, and contempt followed, particularly in his hometown. I suspect that most of us, to whom Jesus has come, have experienced rejection from those who knew us in our "old ways" (when we were not exactly saints). But God, through His Holy Spirit, draws us into His family despite the contempt of those who reject us. God wants us to become His Saints. Thus we sing, "The Saints of God are just folk like me, and I mean to be one too."

Ecclesiastes 3:1-15 Whatever is has already been, and what will be has been before, and God will call the past to account. (v.15)

That "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever" (Hebrews 13:8) is one of the foundations of my faith. This passage looks to eternal life rather than the temporal existence I presently inhabit. In contrast, today's reading from Ecclesiastes begins: "There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under heaven...." Simply put, I am limited (or even enslaved) by time. I praise God that, "He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in the hearts of men" (v.11). My eternal life will be more beautiful than I can imagine, and as I grow in my relationship with God, in Jesus Christ, I also grow in eager anticipation in God's promise of the glorious adventure in eternity with Him.

Ecclesiastes 3:16—4:3 "All have the same breath; man has no advantage over the animal. Everything is meaningless. All go to the same place; all come from dust, and to dust all return." (vv.19b-20)

The authorship of Ecclesiastes has been attributed to Solomon, King of Israel. He seems to have believed in God, but not to have always believed God. In this performance oriented existence of mine, I, too, can forget God's presence in my life. Solomon assumes God is there, but that God has abandoned man in the living of daily life of an imperfect world. He has overlooked God's promise to us of a loving relationship with Himself. Solomon's own father, David, had such a relationship with God. One of the most familiar of Jesus' parables is that of the sower, in which Jesus describes various impediments keeping us from responding to God's grace. The seed is the Word of God, being sown into the hearts of men. Some of the seed fell among thorns, which describes the condition of the man who was beset by, "the worries of this life and the deceitfulness of wealth" (Matthew 13:22), making his life "unfruitful." Solomon was like that man! My cynicism (which can be much like Solomon's) can be avoided as I surrender to God. He is my master and produces within me a crop, yielding a hundred, sixty, or thirty times what was sown!

Psalm 40 Sacrifice and offering you did not desire, but my ears you have pierced; burnt offerings and sin offerings you did not require. Then I said, "Here I am, I have come—it is written about me in the scroll. I desire to do your will, O my God; your law is within my heart." (vv.6-8)

C.S. Lewis' book, Surprised by Joy, an autobiography and spiritual journey, depicts the younger Lewis and his conversion to Christianity. The title itself speaks volumes about Lewis. In truth, the Christian experiences many joyous surprises in his life. One of my "surprises" came from the reading of Psalm 40. Many of the themes of Scripture are present in this uplifting cry of the psalmist to God, his Savior. First, he waits patiently for God who hears his cry. Like Isaiah, he affirms that, "those who wait upon the Lord will renew their strength. They will rise up on wings like eagles..." (Isaiah 40:31). Secondly, the psalmist responds in thanksgiving and worship of God for His rescue and restoration. Thirdly, the psalmist acknowledges being overtaken by sin and asks for God's forgiveness, mercy, and salvation. Finally, the psalmist surrenders to God's will for him as he proclaims, "Here I am! I have come—it is written about me in the scroll."

Isaiah's calling from God to his prophetic ministry was also compelling. God asks, "Who shall I send, and who will go for us?" Isaiah's response: "Here am I. Send me!" (Isaiah 6:8). May we, as God's children, wait for, pray for, and respond to God's call in our lives.

Galatians 3:21—4:11 Because you are sons, God sent the Spirit of his Son into our hearts, the Spirit who calls out, "Abba, Father." So you are no longer a slave, but a son; and since you are a son, God has made you also an heir. (vv.6-7)

As a new Christian, I was troubled by fears of the devil. My new life, which I had committed to Jesus Christ, was anything but filled with joy and peace. An assistant pastor suggested that counseling and prayers of deliverance would help, and that he would make an appointment with me as soon as he and his family returned from vacation. I had a question! "Wait a minute," I said, "What do I do while you're on vacation?" The pastor saw my point. He was able to recruit two others for me from the same ministry to which he belonged. Many prayers were said and many problems addressed. I came away with a much lighter heart and a more joyful beginning to my Christian life. John tells me that "perfect love casts out fear" (1 John 4:18) and it is that perfect love of God through which He sent His Son to save me and through which His Holy Spirit dwells within me. "It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery" (Galatians 5:1). O Lord, let me "stand firm" in your love!
